Old Time, Rousing, Noisy, Old-Fashioned, Eagle-Screaming
Red Fire Republican RallyEx-Judge Walters, of Northumberland
County, a Speaker of National Reputation, Will Be Here

OPERA HOUSE THURSDAY EVENING AT 8

It took local Republicans a long time to get stirred up but now they are agog with enthusiasm and Republican headquarters hums with life day and night. It took only a few minutes to get plans under way for a old time, old fashioned rip roaring Republican Rally of the variety we used to see in the days of McKinley.

In less time than it takes to lace your shoes, speakers were secured, a chairman for the meeting accepted the honor accorded him by his party, bills were ordered printed, the Opera House leased and various committees appointed to look after the details of what is to be the greatest Republican Rally that Clearfield has seen for years.

Republicans will turn out en masse, recognizing in Charles E. Hughes the man who is to steer the Ship of State through the troubled waters of the next four years of this nation's history. Already a number from the small towns surrounding Clearfield have signified their intention of coming in to hear Ex-Judge Walters, of Northumberland county, a speaker of national reputation, A. L. Cole, Esq., whose reputation as a speaker needs no further commendation to citizens of this county and outside where he has been heard.

Honorable John Francis, Warden of the New Penitentiary of Bellefonte is being prevailed upon to lay aside his duties and come here for the meeting on Thursday night. It is thought that he will be present and if he comes Republicans will be sure to hear a fine address from a clean cut man—one who has done more for the upbuilding of criminals and fallen men than any other man in his line of work. Warden Francis is becoming noted through his humane methods of man building at the New Penitentiary. He is a noted Epworth League worker and is in great demand before that body as a speaker. The committee on music are hard at work getting the bands out for the evening and there will no doubt be an old fashioned, red fire parade after the meeting.

Antes are scouring the country this afternoon distributing the bills calling the meeting and that there will be a general response throughout the county goes without question. It will be worth your while to witness an old fashioned Republican demonstration. They put new life into your veins, stir up your patriotism and make you feel that life is worth living.

Without Warning

London, Oct. 31.—(By United Press)—Thirteen of the crew of the British steamer Marina reported torpedoed without warning including probably some Americans are still missing, United States Consul Frost cabled to the American embassy here today. Survivors declare the Marina was torpedoed without warning in a heavy sea and sunk within ten minutes, Frost said. Fifty-two of the Marina crew among those reported missing yesterday have been landed at Castletown the consul said. Survivors say that 38 Americans were on the steamer when she was sunk. It is believed at the embassy that Frost is already en route to Castletown to obtain affidavits from American survivors. The contents of the affidavit will be cabled to the state department at once.

Mrs. E. C. Reeve, Mrs. Richard Patterson, Misses Ethel Boyce, and Bella Anderson, will attend the Cadaki concert at Altoona on Thursday evening.

WHERE THEY WILL HEAR
THE ELECTION RESULTS

New York, Oct. 31.—(By United Press)—Just one week from today the various candidates will hear the results of their respective campaigns at the following places: President Wilson at Shadow Lawn and Charles E. Hughes in New York, probably at the Astor Hotel. Allen Benson, at his home in Yonkers and J. Frank Hanley in Indianapolis. Vice President Marshall at his home in Indianapolis and C. W. Fairbanks probably at his home in Indianapolis.

Sister of Senator Dimeling Dies.

Yesterday morning word was received of the death of Mrs. Edith Dimeling Wharton, wife of Prof. W. P. Wharton of New York City.

Mrs. Wharton has been ill for sometime but was improving when suddenly Saturday morning her condition became critical and she died of paralysis of the spine.

Mrs. Wharton was born at Stoneville and was the daughter of George and Kathryn Dimeling. She lived at the home of her brother, Hon. George Dimeling the early part of her life and made a warm circle of friends here. Eight years ago she was united in marriage to Prof. W. H. Wharton of New York City where she has been living until the time of her death.

She is survived by the following: Her husband, W. P. Wharton, of New York City and sisters and brothers, Amelia, Gertrude, John and George all of Clearfield.

The body arrived this morning on the 10:20 train. Obituary notice later.

Just Being Made Known

The friends of Miss Emma Withrow and Homer Campbell are just getting wise to the fact that this popular young couple were married away back on August 16th of this year. When the happy event occurred the principals conceived the idea of keeping the news away from their friends, and they succeeded so well that the story has just leaked out.

The young folks were united in marriage on the date above mentioned by Rev. Hershey, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Wellsboro, Tioga county, Pa., the former home of the groom.

The bride is a talented and accomplished young lady and has been employed as cashier at Jordan's restaurant, while the groom is a valued employee of the Kupper Cut Glass Works. The young couple have taken up the cares of married life and embarked in housekeeping in one of the Nevling flats on Third street.

The Progress joints their many friends in belated congratulations.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

No office is of greater importance than that of Judge of the Supreme Court. It has to do with the final security of both liberty and property. This office becomes more important as the years come and go because the multiplied conflicting interests of society tempt men to raise wrong standards of right which are often supported by plausible and misleading arguments which require skill and discrimination as well as courage of the highest kind to expose and set aside.

I know no man in Pennsylvania better qualified to fill this office than Judge Walling. (Continued on Page Three)

CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE DONE

The village of Rockton is situated in a sensation, a bold dynamite having been carried out at that early Monday morning. It is well known that the dynamite did not what they had figured on doing but they made a good start, blowing up the garage owned by Ed. Koller, one of the well known citizens of that place. It is believed that the dynamite really intended to blow up the garage at a time when the dynamite was in it, but fortunately Mr. Koller was on a trip Sunday, and had not yet returned at the time of the outrage.

The dynamite carried out their nefarious work shortly after 1 o'clock, at which time a tremendous explosion took place. The explosion blew out a portion of one side of the garage and also lifted the roof. Had the automobile been in the building it is quite probable that it would have been seriously damaged.

It is also rumored but not confirmed that the same parties implicated in the dynamiting or some other party visited to the home of Simon Wells, another well known resident, and ransacked through several rooms, securing $300 in cash. They threw around a number of books belonging to a son of Mr. Wells, he being treasurer of the school district. It was also stated that there was some money in a value, but the robbers evidently did not suspect this, as they threw the value around, but did not open.

ASK PRESIDENT WILSON

W. S. Stone, Grand Chief Engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has issued a circular letter in which he says, referring to the Adamson Law, "we do not know yet just what it means." This comes as a frank confession from a high officer and a broad minded man. It is apparent that Mr. Stone and his colleagues are beginning to do some of the thinking about the Adamson Law which Mr. Hughes suggested they do in his Newark speech. They are finding that the law is not as clear as it should be. The Brotherhoods should ask Mr. Wilson for a full and complete explanation of what the law covers. He claims that the law is satisfactory to him but whether it will prove satisfactory to the railroad men remains to be seen.

IT IS SAID THAT

Clearfield will see a wonderful Hallowe'en parade tonight. Every farmer should read the masterly article which appeared in the Spirit last evening headed "Underwood Tariff Hostile to Farmer's Interests." Editor Savage will have a hard time squaring himself with candidates Green Bell and Archer H. Reed on that article. The Spirit can now reasonably be expected to come out openly and advocate a Republican Tariff and the election of Hughes. Hughes is strong in the hard coal regions. Clearfield County Republicans are no longer slumbering. Their Rally on Thursday night will be a hummer. Some of our Democratic friends were very sore at us last night. Inasmuch as they insist on defeating us next Tuesday they ought to let us have a little fun at their expense. Ye editor was roundly cursed down town last evening. To get angry is an acknowledgement of defeat so let's all smile. "Maid to Order" was really made to order but didn't quite fit. Ex-Judge Walters of Northumberland will speak here Thursday night. He is a forceful and convincing speaker of the highest type. Warden John Francis of the Western Penitentiary will also be here. It will be better to meet the Warden here than in his office. The largest Republican Campaign contribution was $30,000. The largest Democratic Campaign contribution was $79,000. This is indicative of who the money interests are for. The State of Indiana is now safe for Hughes. That the other Middle West States will follow in its footsteps.

HALLOWEEN BALL TO BE HELD OUT OF DOORS

Harrisburg, Oct. 31.—Harrisburg's observance of Hallowe'en which in recent years has become a great organized group with thousands of costumed and masked revellers thronging the streets, will be a big out-of-doors ball tonight, if the weather man behaves.
A parade of costumed persons will be held, winding up in Market square, half of which will be roped off for dancing on the asphalt. Many prizes have been offered.
The dance end of the celebration is a holdover from the local merchants' Fall Fashion show last month. A howling thunderstorm came along just at the proper time to prevent a dance which was to be finale to the show and then it was postponed until tonight.

MUSTARINE Worth Its Weight In Gold

For Chilblains and Sore, Aching Feet
—All Misery Ceases When Mustarine Is Applied

Your feet are inflamed, that's why they are sore that's why they burn and sting and keep you feeling miserable. Half way remedies won't help. You've got to draw the inflammation right out. Just rub on Mustarine freely tonight and away goes the agony from Sore Feet, Corns and Callouses.

If people who suffer from Cold Feet only knew how cozy and comfortable they could be all day by simply applying a little Mustarine, they would not hesitate to get a small box. You'll wonder why you never thought of Mustarine before.

Druggists everywhere can supply you but be sure you get the real Mustarine in the yellow box with a picture of a man and a girl. Never get a cheap imitation. Get it at Woodward & Lothrop, 5th and M Sts., N. W., Washington, D. C., or at the Clearfield Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Fashion Hints By Margaret Mason

By Margaret Mason
Sure Mocha and Java well mixed and ground fine
Is coffee I always have ordered for mine.
My mother before me, my grandmother too
Have always insisted on this blended brew,
But now I must shatter traditions,
I see,
For Mocha and Java I've picked from one tree.

Sao Paulo Brazil, Oct 1.—(By Mail)—This certainly is going to be an awful blow to the domestic coffee connoisseurs. The epicures who smack their lips and extol the elusive flavor of the Java as it subtly intermingles with the Mocha.

Indeed it furnished me coffee grounds for surprise when I found the Mocha and the Java not only growing on the same family tree but even on the same branch of the family.

The best way to settle the coffee question is to take a night's train trip from Rio to Sao Paulo. The state of Sao Paulo is the greatest coffee growing country in the world. Its capital, city of Sao Paulo, is justly dubbed the "Chicago of South America." A two hours run by train brings us to the little town of Campinas right out in the midst of the open rolling coffee country.

The "King" of Campinas himself took up by auto out through the coffee plantations. He is a king by my own dubbing. This successful North American from Lawrence, Kansas chose to make light of my application just as he chose to make light of Campinas. You see he controls the electric light plant and the traction line in Campinas as well as in thirteen other small Brazilian towns. Surely a neat little crown of incandescent bulbs is not amiss above his brow.

I've heard of people painting the town red but they would be helpless to incarnate further the country of Sao Paulo. All the soil is of a marvelous richness shading to vivid crimson and rose. With its billowing red hills it is startlingly reminiscent of San Diego county, California. Showing a Hibernian tendency these hills all have the green of the coffee trees above the red soil. As far as the eye can see the coffee plantations stretch away into the distance. Some plantations boast of over a million trees.

To speak of coffee trees is very misleading. In reality they are like nothing so much as big lilac bushes except that the leaves are smaller. The coffee berry itself looks like a cherry turning from green to a bright cherry red through its different stages of ripeness. Unlike the cherry, however, the coffee berry grows in clusters, interspersed with leaves, closely fastened, without stems, to the branches of the tree. It has little pulp and no juice and the coffee beans proper form the heart of the berry like a cherry pit into halves.

And here is where the difference between the Mocha and Java comes in. Not being a prize student of botany I don't know the technical terms but something happens to the stamen of some coffee blossoms so that they make stunted beans and round in shape which are called Java while the perfect Mocha beans are shapes you taste when they are all ground up together.

In coffee picking time even the littlest tots help in the harvest. Everybody works, even father. The picking consists in stripping all the berries off right down the branch. As the leaves eat in somewhat on the general strip, after the harvest, the poor old coffee tree looks a bit denuded.

The berries are stripped off and allowed to fall on the ground where they are raked up and carried away in baskets.

The next step is to spread them out on an open cement court to dry in the sun.

When the berries are all shriveled and dried to the consistency of husks they are put through successive machines that husk them and separate the Mocha beans from the Java. They finally land in sacks ready to be shipped down to Santos and exported.

As you sip your Turkish, French or U. S. A. coffee you may be almost sure it has a Brazilian past. For it is only by the different degrees and processes of roasting in the different countries to which it is sent that the good native Brazilian bean becomes disguised as a terrible Turk or in true Parisian manner, starts a haison with chicorée and becomes "café."

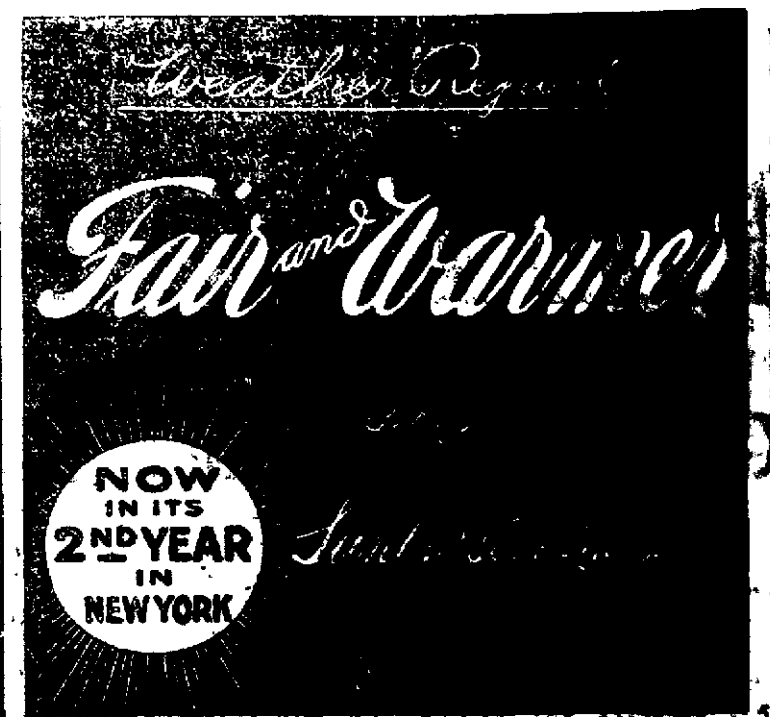

I have tried to make this coffee clear for you, to show you just where your coffee's bean. I hope it all has percolated.

The first national convention of opponents of woman suffrage in the history of America has been called to meet in Washington in December.

The Kansas W. C. T. U. has decided to erect a drinking fountain in Topeka as a memorial to Mrs. Carrie Nation, the militant crusader against saloons.

Mrs. Georgia A. Robinson, recently appointed to the office of policewoman in Los Angeles, is the first colored woman in the United States to hold such a position.

Symbolizing the duty and mission of its members, the Women's Medical club of Columbus Ohio, adopted as its official pennant a white stork on a yellow background.

Forty-two faithful women servants who have held positions with the same families from two to twenty years have been given premiums by the German Housewives' society of New York city.

The government of Wurtemberg has commissioned a woman as naval lieutenant and placed her second in command of a small gunboat detailed to guard the great Zeppelin works on Lake Constance.

Miss Hortense S. Stollnitz, an 18-year-old New York girl, is the new international amateur typewriting champion, having won the title in competition by writing 137 words a minute for 30 consecutive minutes.

Miss Margaret Chinn of Seattle is the first Chinese woman ever to matriculate at the University of Washington. Miss Chinn is a native of China, but has resided many years in this country. Despite her long residence here, she can speak and write the Chinese language with ease.

Miss Esther Cleveland daughter of the late Grover Cleveland, formerly President of the United States, has arrived in Paris to take up work among the blind soldiers at the "Phare de Paris," an American institution which has accomplished much good under the direction of Miss Winifred Holt.

Lady Mackworth, daughter of Lord Rhonda, is a shining example of the advancement of English women in business as one of the results of the war. She is an active director of nine large financial and industrial corporations, including a colliery company, an insurance agency, a coal distributing agency, which operates in France and other countries and a Spanish coal company.

Boston society folk, as well as those of Newport, New York and abroad, have learned with interest of the engagement of Miss Edith Deacon, the daughter of Mrs. and the late Edward Parker Deacon of Boston, to Henry G. Gray, son of the late Judge John Clinto Gray of the court of appeals of New York. Miss Deacon is noted as a society leader, beauty and tennis champion. She is one of the three famous Deacon sisters of Boston. Her sister, Dorothy, is the Princess Dadiwill of Rome. The third sister, Gladys, attracted much attention abroad several years ago by the reported infatuation of the German Crown Prince for her and his desire to renounce his right to the succession and marry the American girl.

"LIBERTY"

By the will of her father, Liberty Horton an American girl is left a big ranch in Mexico, and upon her eighteenth birthday goes to take possession of it against the wishes of her friends who know the conditions in Mexico. Escorted by a troop of Texas ranger, who's captain is madly in love with her she crosses the boundary to take possession of her estate. The employees give a grand fiesta in her honor inviting all the people for miles around. Thrilling deeds of horsemanship, shooting, etc., amuse the gathering with one exception. While this is going on Manuel, a Mexican plots to kidnap Liberty, force her to marry him, and secure the ranch for his own. How this is done and the way that she is rescued will be shown in episode 1 of this thrilling patriotic serial "Liberty" at the Opera House tomorrow, matinee and night. A big program in addition.

"THE LAW DECIDES"

Domestic difficulties form the complications of a most absorbing play under the title of "The Law Decides." The story by Miss Marguerite Bertsch tells of a thwarted love that rekindles with a fierce passion when the leading male character, portrayed by Harry T. Morey, discovers that the object of his affections, who has become the wife of another is thrown by chance into his company in an out of the way hunting lodge. Dorothy Kelly does one of her best scenes at this period of the play, when as the wife, she defends her honor first, and then with the appearance of her husband is denounced for alleged perjury. Donald Hall as the husband is superb and little Bobby Connelly as the unhappy offspring tossed rudely about by the storms of the divorce court is wonderful. The play is a great teacher, giving to the public a wonderful lesson of the folly of greed for wealth and love denied. It was directed by William P. S. Earle, assisted by the author.

DR. WAITE, YOUNG PRISONER, FINDS SOUL MATE

Ossining, N. Y., Oct. 31.—(By United Press)—Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, debonair young prisoner who, after several months of diligent effort, succeeded in killing his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Peck, of Grand Rapids, today found a soul mate. Or rather, she found him. In a letter to Waite in his cell in the Sing Sing death house, where he is kept pending the appeal of his case, the writer told the condemned man that his "cosmic throb" and hers, as revealed by her intuitive self, are the same. She longs to be with him, to comfort him, and to assure him they will be mates in the next world. Dr. Waite receives many letters from women he never knew. Some condole, others scorn, but most express admiration, sympathy and love. Waite spends his time reading the Bible and writing poetry. When Former Warden Osborne left Sing Sing Waite bade him a warm adieu. Osborne thinks Waite excessively abnormal; that he should not be electrocuted but rather locked up for life.

British Lose 11,800 Men During Month

Activities on Western Front Quiet Last Night.

London, Oct. 31.—(By United Press)—The British killed, wounded and missing during the past month is 11,800 according to the official casualty list announced this afternoon. Of the number 1487 were officers, nearly 3000 officers and 75,000 men were wounded and 400 officers and 8000 men are missing. General Haig reported today that last night's activities on the western front were very quiet and that only intermittent fire occurred on both sides. Roumanian forces in Dougrua are reinforcing their lines preparing an attack on the German forces in that region under General Mackensen. Late advices admitted that they were stubbornly resisting.

GERMANY WILL DISAVOW MARINE DISASTER IF IT IS CONTRARY TO PLEDGES

Washington, Oct. 31.—(By United Press)—If the Steamers Marina and Rowenmore were sunk by a German submarine commander or commanders in direct violation of Germany's pledges the German government will disavow it and offer reparation and punish the commander or commanders, German officials in Washington said today. The officials point out that in the case of the Marina which it is stated was attacked by gun fire without warning that this method of submarining it in itself a warning and that the crew had sufficient time to escape. If the crew was unable to leave the ship it was probably because they failed to stop when signaled. In Lansing's report he state that the facts in connection with the sinking of the Marina are not conclusive.

lantly agreed to escort her to her destination.

With both young people it was a case of love at first sight and a rapid fire courtship resulted in the announcement which heads this article.

The bride, whose home is in Pittsburgh is a trained nurse and came here to take charge of Frank Fielding Esq. She is an accomplished young lady and possesses all the graces necessary to make a fitting helpmeet. The groom is a lifelong resident of Osceola and possesses a large circle of warm friends in this section who wish the happy couple all the joys of married blessedness.

ter fitted both by nature and by training for this high office. In his own county where he has so long and so well served his people in judicial office his name is a guarantee for fair dealing and impartiality. When he was candidate for re-election no nomination was made against him but the different parties agreed upon him as the man best fitted in that great county for Common Pleas Judge. The business of the county was such as to give him when at the Bar and also when on the Bench a close familiarity with the class of cases which are common to this section of the state.

I have known Judge Walling for about twenty years. He has held court in this county to the great satisfaction of both the Bar and the people. I have also heard him try cases in his own county. In his knowledge of the law and in his strong practical sense in administering it he had few equals and no superiors on the Common Pleas Bench. To these qualities he added another that is not always found with these and that is a genial disposition which attracted to him and held to him both the respect and admiration of the Bar and people. This also greatly increased and widened his influence and his sphere of usefulness. We can make no mistake by supporting Judge Walling for the Supreme Bench.

it nor take it with them. There is no clew to the perpetrators of the outrage and there does not seem to be any reason for it. Mr. Kohler is one of the highly esteemed men of the community and it is not known that he has any enemies. It is stated that two strangers who were lurking in the village are now among the missing and that possibly they did the deed.

There is a supposition afloat that the blowing up of the garage was only a side issue to the plot that was really framed up. Some people are of the opinion that the explosion was planned with a view of getting people away from their homes so that some well schemed robbery could be carried out. But the blowing up of the garage did not attract the general attention of the community.

CURWENSVILLE NEWS

CURWEN
Mrs. W. Q. Heimbolt left last Saturday for Williamsport where she expects to remain for a week.

County Commissioners Dale and Spencer, were in town last evening and attended the Republican rally.

Fred Kirk and wife arrived from Philadelphia yesterday and will spend several days at the Kirk homestead.

Born, to Mr and Mrs. Harold Stewart, at their home on South Side of Anderson Creek yesterday morning, a son.

Chas. Robison, a former resident here, now in business in Clearfield, spent Sunday with relatives in this place.

Yesterday started the week for a general clean up. Considerable work was done by citizens and more will be done today.

A bow social, for the benefit of the H. S. football team will be held in the Moose Hall tonight. There should be a good attendance.

The wrecking of a freight car loaded with brick Saturday at the brick plant, cause the P. R. R. work train to spend some time at that point on Sunday.

Every member of the Civic club should make an extra effort to be present this evening and hear what B. J. Lantz has to say about a "Community Centre."

Levy Williams, son of Samuel Williams, South Side, employed at a building brick plant at Templeton, Armstrong county, came home yesterday for a short visit to his parents.

M. D. Kirk, an expert mining engineer located at Cumberland, Md., arrived in Curwensville yesterday for a day's visit with kin folks. He is a son of Mrs. A. M. Kirk and a brother of H. P. Kirk.

In the first 8 months of the present year, 13 people lost their lives and 104 were injured at grade crossings on the P. R. R. system, a large portion of these accidents occurred to automobilists.

Landlord Carpenter is contemplating making two dwelling houses of his barn. He has no use for the building as it stands, and figures that more profit could be derived from it by turning the building into houses for rent.

Dal Richards has assumed the drivership of the Adams Express wagon for Agent H. B. Thompson. He is a good careful man, and patrons need have no fear but what their packages will be delivered on time from now on.

The Republican rally which was announced to take place last evening in the public building was held Joseph Phillips, candidate for assembly, was the first speaker. He was followed by A. H. Woodward who made the leading talk of the evening. There was too much noise and confusion on the streets, and that drew the attention of many who had contemplated attending the meeting.

Last evening bedlam broke loose all over town. Nearly everybody was out having a good time, meaning the younger element. No great amount of damage was done to private property, as compared to that of day of yore. Just what enjoyment kids can and in soaping store windows is beyond comprehension, yet considerable it was done. As a lady remarked "Thank goodness, Cornwalls and Hallowe'en nights come only once a year."

A picture of Curwensville's base ball team of 1882-3, "The Maple Leaves" is being displayed in the store window of Gus Wolf. It calls to mind the struggle for supremacy between Curwensville and Clearfield and on some of the games considerable money changed hands on the result. The players represented in the picture are: Ross Harley, M. Harley, L. W. Spencer, C. E. Pattern, Wills, Chambers, H. Burkett, Tom Poorman, Gus Wolf and Hudson. Poorman was a National league man, and lived at Lock Haven. Hudson was from Altoona.

HISTORIC CHAPEL 150 YEARS OLD.

New York, Oct. 30.—Old St. Paul's Chapel, at Broadway and Fulton St. today began a week of celebration of the 150th anniversary of its founding. It is the oldest public building and the only colonial building in the metropolis. Other congregations are as old but St. Paul's is the only building that stands as it was before the Revolution.

While in New York as Commander-in-chief of the American forces, General Washington attended St. Paul's. After the disastrous battle of Long Island, he was driven out of New York by Lord Howe and the city fell into the possession of the British. During this time St. Paul's was the military chapel of the English officers.

In 1879 immediately after the inauguration of Washington as first president of the United States, he, with both houses of Congress, marched from the present site of the sub-treasury building in Wall Street to St. Paul's Chapel, where an appropriate service was held.

Since the Revolutionary days St. Paul's has continued to be prominent in the life of New York changing with demands of the time and growing in historic value. The old graveyard as well as the church itself, is rich in relics and monuments.

RUSSIAN IMPERIAL HEADQUARTERS IS VERY BUSY PLACE

Ordinarily About 20,000 People Form the Population, but It is Now Crowded

Czar is in Constant Attendance with Son, Heir to the Throne. Crown Prince Alexis Nikolaievich, Only Eleven Years Old.

By Wm. Philip Simms (United Press Staff Correspondent) Imperial Headquarters, Russian Army, Oct. 4.—(By Mail)—From this place every day about half past twelve o'clock, over special wires, flash the orders of the Emperor and his Chief of Staff Alexieff to the generals commanding the 700 miles of front.

If you have eyes that can see through housetops and brick walls, you will see scores of uniformed officers pouring over maps and plans; aids hurrying from one department to another; orderlies standing at ramrod attention back to busy generals; a Crown Prince learning how to govern; a Czar conferring with his staff. You will see all these important acts which send a half million men to the attack, to the forcing of a stream, to the taking of an enemy redoubt. The clash of cavalry, the thunder of big guns, the offensives against Lemberg and Kovel and all the other places—all are controlled from here.

Yet, if you have the eyes of ordinary mortals, you see none of this and Grand General headquarters, or the Stavka as the Russians call it, is the least, the least place in all Russia.

Unless you have plenty of work to keep you occupied, this is no place for you. This is no health resort, no place for tired business men, no amusement center for neurotics and rouses. Everybody here has a job and he keeps at it and if you have none you are in for a rotten time.

Ordinarily about 20,000 people live here. Now, with the military, the population is about double this. Still the narrow, roughly cobbled streets are seldom crowded because most of the 40,000 people are busy inside. In the dingy shop-windows one sees American tooth washes, American sewing machines, American typewriters, American bicycles and advertisements for American harvesting machines.

A long, one-story house of hewn logs, unpainted and weathered to a somber gray, back a little way from the main street, is by tradition, the scene of a meeting between Katherine the Great, of Russia, and Emperor Frederick of Prussia, in 1726. Now it is divided into two parts and a family lives in each.

A red brick "opera house" in the middle of the town, the house of the local governor wherein Czar Nicholas II now finds quarters with his 12 year-old heir, Alexis Nikolaievich; a rather handsome Catholic church, several equally handsome Greek Catholic church, several equally handsome Greek Orthodox churches; the street market; the view from the terrace back of the Emperor's quarters, make up the principle sights of the place.

A long, very narrow street, between two rows of whitewashed stone buildings, whose roofs are almost low enough to be touched by the extended hand looks inviting. Here are strange shops kept by very hairy men. Their wares are principally articles for the peasants—charcoal

LET THE EAGLE SCREAM

Old Time, Rousing, Noisy, Old-Fashioned, Eagle-Screaming
Red Fire Republican Rally

Ex-Judge Walters, of Northumberland County, a Speaker of National Representation, Will Be Here

OPERA HOUSE THURSDAY EVENING AT 8

It took local Republicans a long time to get stirred up but now they are agog with enthusiasm and Republican headquarters hums with life day and night. It took only a few minutes to get plans under way for a old time, old fashioned rip roaring Republican Rally of the variety we used to see in the days of McKinley.

In less time than it takes to lace your shoes, speakers were secured, a chairman for the meeting accepted the honor accorded him by his party, bills were ordered printed, the Opera House leased and various committees appointed to look after the details of what is to be the greatest Republican Rally that Clearfield has seen for years.

Republicans will turn out en masse, recognizing in Charles E. Hughes the man who is to steer the Ship of State through the troubled waters of the next four years of this nation's history. Already a number from the small towns surrounding Clearfield have signified their intention of coming in to hear Ex-Judge Walters, of Northumberland county, a speaker of National reputation, A. L. Cole, Esq., whose reputation as a speaker needs no further commendation to citizens of this county and outside where he has been heard.

Honorable John Francis, Warden of the New Penitentiary of Bellefonte is being prevailed upon to lay aside his duties and come here for the meeting on Thursday night. It is thought that he will be present and if he comes Republicans will be sure to hear a fine address from a clean cut man—one who has done more for the upbuilding of criminals and fallen men than any other man in his line of work. Warden Francis is becoming noted through his humane methods of man building at the New Penitentiary. He is a noted Epworth League worker and is in great demand before that body as a speaker. The committee on music are hard at work getting the bands out for the evening and there will no doubt be an old fashioned, red fire parade after the meeting.

Antes are scouring the country this afternoon distributing the bills calling the meeting and that there will be a general response throughout the county goes without question. It will be worth your while to witness an old fashioned Republican demonstration. They put new life into your veins, stir up your patriotism and make you feel that life is worth living.

Thirteen of Marina Crew Still Missing

Survivors Declare She was Sunk Without Warning

London, Oct. 31.—(By United Press)—Thirteen of the crew of the British steamer Marina reported torpedoed without warning including probably some Americans are still missing, United States Consul Frost cabled to the American embassy here today. Survivors declare the Marina was torpedoed without warning in a heavy sea and sunk within ten minutes, Frost said. Fifty-two of the Marina crew among those reported missing yesterday have been landed at Castletown the consul said. Survivors say that 36 Americans were on the steamer when she was sunk. It is believed at the embassy that Frost is already en route to Castletown to obtain affidavits from American survivors. The contents of the affidavit will be cabled to the state department at once.

Mrs. E. C. Reeve, Mrs. Richard Patterson, Misses Ethel Boyce, and Bella Anderson, will attend the Cadaki concert at Altoona on Thursday evening.

WHERE THEY WILL HEAR THE ELECTION RESULTS

New York, Oct. 31.—(By United Press)—Just one week from today the various candidates will hear the results of their respective campaigns at the following places: President Wilson at Shadow Lawn and Charles E. Hughes in New York, probably at the Astor Hotel. Allen Benson, at his home in Yonkers and J. Frank Hanley in Indianapolis. Vice President Marshall at his home in Indianapolis and C. W. Fairbanks probably at his home in Indianapolis.

Sister of Senator Dimeling Dies.

Yesterday morning word was received of the death of Mrs. Edith Dimeling Wharton, wife of Prof. W. P. Wharton of New York City. Mrs. Wharton has been ill for sometime but was improving when suddenly Saturday morning her condition became critical and she died of paralysis of the spine.

Mrs. Wharton was born at Stoneville and was the daughter of George and Kathryn Dimeling. She lived at the home of her brother, Hon. George Dimeling the early part of her life and made a warm circle of friends here. Eight years ago she was united in marriage to Prof. W. H. Wharton of New York City where she has been living until the time of her death.

She is survived by the following: Her husband, W. P. Wharton, of New York City and sisters and brothers, Amelia, Gertrude, John and George all of Clearfield. The body arrived this morning on the 10:20 train. Obituary notice later.

"We're Married Now," Say Clearfield Couple

Happy Event Occurred in August but Just Being Made Known

The friends of Miss Emma Withrow and Homer Campbell are just getting wise to the fact that this popular young couple were married away back on August 16th of this year. When the happy event occurred the principals conceived the idea of keeping the news away from their friends, and they succeeded so well that the story has just leaked out.

The young folks were united in marriage on the date above mentioned by Rev. Hershey, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Wellsboro, Tioga county, Pa., the former home of the groom.

The bride is a talented and accomplished young lady and has been employed as cashier at Jordan's restaurant, while the groom is a valued employee of the Kupper Cut Glass Works. The young couple have taken up the duties of married life and embarked in housekeeping in one of the Nevling flats on Third street.

The Progress joints their many friends in belated congratulations.

ROCKTON DYNAMITE DESPER

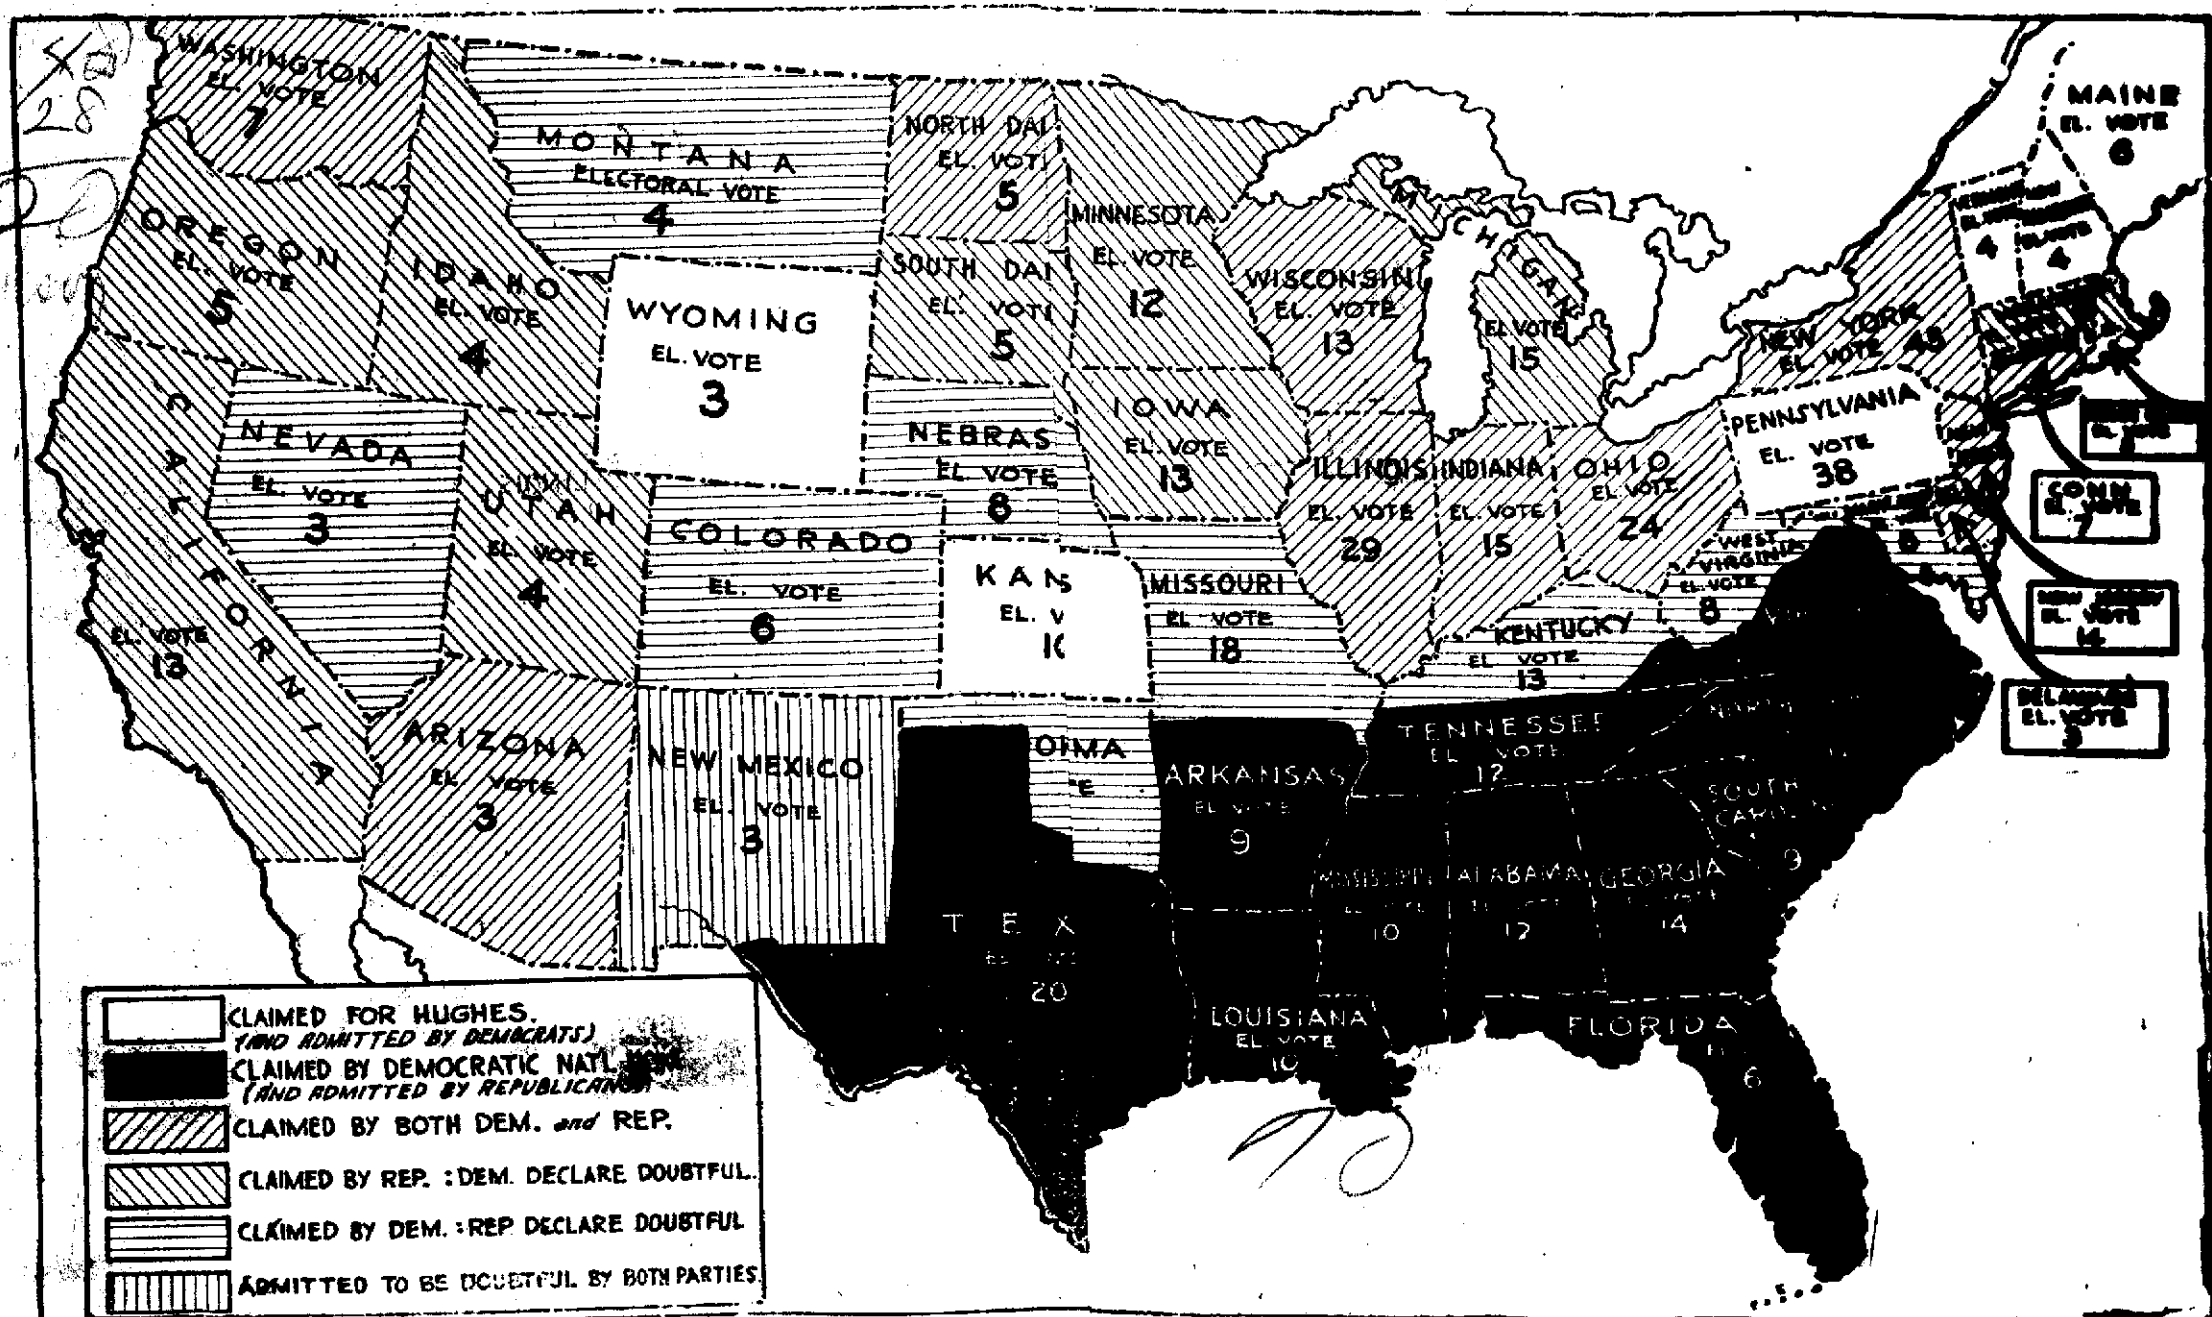

Little Town Shaken by Which is Thought to Have Been Cover for Thinking

CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE DONE

The village of Rockton is now in a sensation, a bold dynamite having been carried out at about early Monday morning. It is well known that the dynamite did not what they had figured on doing but they made a good start, blowing up the garage owned by Ed. Koller, one of the well known citizens of that place. It is believed that the dynamite really intended to blow up the garage at a time when the dynamite was in it, but fortunately Mr. Koller was on a trip Sunday, and had not yet returned at the time of the outrage.

The dynamite carried out their nefarious work shortly after 1 o'clock, at which time a tremendous explosion took place. The explosion blew out a portion of one side of the garage and also lifted the roof. Had the automobile been in the building it is quite probable that it would have been seriously damaged.

It is also rumored but not confirmed that the same parties implicated in the dynamiting of some other place, visit to the home of Simon Wells, another well known resident, and ransacked through several rooms, securing $3.00 in cash. They threw around a number of books belonging to a son of Mr. Wells, he being treasurer of the school district. It was also stated that there was some money in a valise, but the robbers evidently did not suspect this, as they threw the valise around, but did not open it. (Continued on Page Three)

ASK PRESIDENT WILSON

W. S. Stone, Grand Chief Engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has issued a circular letter in which he says, referring to the Adamson Law, "we do not know yet just what it means." This comes as a frank confession from a high officer and a broad minded man. It is apparent that Mr. Stone and his colleagues are beginning to do some of the thinking about the Adamson Law which Mr. Hughes suggested they do in his Newark speech. They are finding that the law is not as clear as it should be. The Brotherhoods should ask Mr. Wilson for a full and complete explanation of what the law covers. He claims that the law is satisfactory to him but whether it will prove satisfactory to the railroad men remains to be seen.

IT IS SAID THAT

Clearfield will see a wonderful Hallowe'en parade tonight. Every farmer should read the masterly article which appeared in the Spirit last evening headed "Underwood Tariff Hostile to Farmer's Interests."

Editor Savage will have a hard time squaring himself with candidates Green Bell and Archer H. Reed on that article.

The Spirit can now reasonably be expected to come out openly and advocate a Republican Tariff and the election of Hughes.

Hughes is strong in the hard coal regions. Clearfield County Republicans are no longer slumbering. Their Rally on Thursday night will be a hummer. Some of our Democratic friends were very sore at us last night.

Inasmuch as they insist on defeating us next Tuesday they ought to let us have a little fun at their expense. Ye editor was roundly cursed down town last evening. To get angry is an acknowledgement of defeat so let's all smile.

"Maid to Order" was really made to order but didn't quite fit.

Ex-Judge Walters of Northumberland will speak here Thursday night.

He is a forceful and convincing speaker of the highest type.

Warden John Francis of the Western Penitentiary will also be here.

It will be better to meet the Warden here than in his office.

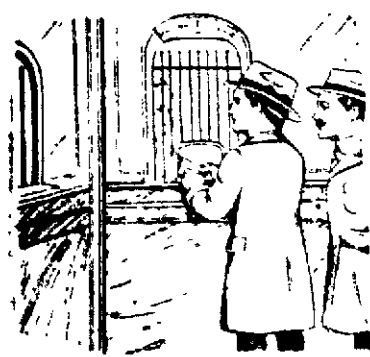

The largest Republican Campaign contribution was $30,000.

The largest Democratic Campaign contribution was $79,000.

This is indicative of who the money interests are for. The State of Indiana is now safe for Hughes.

That the other Middle West States will follow in its footsteps.

THE CLOUDS IN OUR LIVES

How glad we are to see the sun peeping out from among the clouds after a stormy week or so. Why! our spirits immediately rise, and we appreciate the day from the early morn until the late night. The clouds in our lives are there for a purpose, too. If we never knew the burden of trouble how could we appreciate the joys which come to us.

Then, too, what seems to be trouble often brings the best to us in the end. For every cloud has a silver lining, and behind the cloud is the sun still shining. Sometimes our sky of life looks ever so dreary, and we are tempted to give up in despair, when lo! we sight just a little glint of the silver underneath and it gives us hope anew.

Of course, the best thing to do is to turn the clouds inside out in beginning, but when this fails the only alternative is to nurture a feeling of hope.

We are all that the child which is born into a healthy home never up-preciates its fortune, while the child that is reared in its younger days and gradually acquires wealth through to is far more able to realize blessings.

I am sure every one had clouds in his life that being better fitted to take up career when the sun at last came shining through.

It is hard to keep up hope when the clouds are darkest, but in order to insure efficacy in our worldly affairs we must not falter.

No matter how gloomy our sky may be, it will but have faith and believe in righteousness conquering in the end sure we will not only be happier but will help those around us to be, too.

HALLOWEEN BALL TO BE HELD OUT OF DOORS

Harrisburg, Oct. 31.—Harrisburg's observance of Hallowe'en which in recent years has become a great organized group with thousands of costumed and masked revellers thronging the streets, will be a big out-of-doors ball tonight, if the weather man behaves.

A parade of costumed persons will be held, winding up in Market square, half of which will be roped off for dancing on the asphalt. Many prizes have been offered.

The dance end of the celebration is a holdover from the local merchants' Fall Fashion show last month. A howling thunderstorm came along just at the proper time to prevent a dance which was to be finale to the show and then it was postponed until tonight.

PACIFIC COAST STEAMSHIP COMPANIES MERGE

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 31.—(By United Press)—The merger of the Pacific Coast Steamship Co., and the Pacific Alaska Navigation Co., recently agreed to by the directors becomes effective tomorrow with J. F. Alexander of Tacoma, president of the new concern. The Pacific Coast Co. has a fleet of thirteen freight and passenger boats and the Alaska Navigation nine. The value of the combined fleet is approximately $12,000,000. Officers other than Alexander are: E. C. Ward, vice-president, William Jones, Tacoma, treasurer and W. F. Haines, Seattle, manager.

"FAIR AND WARMER"

When Selwyn & Company present "Fair and Warmer" the Avery Hopwood farce which transported all New York with joy for one year, at the Opera House on Friday evening it will be in answer to the most imperative demand that has been made for a New York success within the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

"Fair and Warmer's" quickly-gotten reputation of being able to make anybody and everybody laugh, and laugh uproariously and incessantly through three madcap acts, created its unprecedented popularity. It was a season when even the best thrills paled beside the lure of laughing. Before the end of half the farce's first year run, the whole country was asking for it.

Selwyn & Company will send it here with an admirable cast of farceurs. Seats on sale tomorrow.

Fashion Hints By Margaret Mason

By Margaret Mason
Sure Mocha and Java well mixed and ground fine
Is coffee I always have ordered for mine.
My mother before me, my grandmother too
Have always insisted on this blended brew,
But now I must shatter traditions,
I see,
For Mocha and Java I've picked from one tree.

Sao Paulo Brazil, Oct 1.—(By Mail)
—This certainly is going to be an awful blow to the domestic coffee connoisseurs. The epicures who smack their lips and extol the elusive flavor of the Java as it subtly intermingles with the Mocha.

Indeed it furnished me coffee grounds for surprise when I found the Mocha and the Java not only growing on the same family tree but even on the same branch of the family.

The best way to settle the coffee question is to take a night's train trip from Rio to Sao Paulo. The state of Sao Paulo is the greatest coffee growing country in the world. Its capital, city of Sao Paulo, is justly dubbed the "Chicago of South America." A two hours run by train brings us to the little town of Campinas right out in the midst of the open rolling coffee country.

The "King" of Campinas himself took up by auto out through the coffee plantations. He is a king by my own dubbing. This successful North American from Lawrence, Kansas chose to make light of my application just as he chose to make light of Campinas. You see he controls the electric light plant and the traction line in Campinas as well as in thirteen other small Brazilian towns. Surely a neat little crown of incandescent bulbs is not amiss above his brow.

I've heard of people painting the town red but they would be helpless to incarnate further the country of Sao Paulo. All the soil is of a marvelous richness shading to vivid crimson and rose. With its billowing red hills it is startlingly reminiscent of San Diego county, California. Showing a Hibernian tendency these hills all have the green of the coffee trees above the red soil. As far as the eye can see the coffee plantations stretch away into the distance. Some plantations boast of over a million trees.

To speak of coffee trees is very misleading. In reality they are like nothing so much as big lilac bushes except that the leaves are smaller. The coffee berry itself looks like a cherry turning from green to a bright cherry red through its different stages of ripeness. Unlike the cherry, however, the coffee berry, grows in clusters, interspersed with leaves, closely fastened, without stems, to the branches of the tree. It has little pulp and no juice and the coffee beans proper form the heart of the berry like a cherry pit into halves.

And here is where the difference between the Mocha and Java comes in. Not being a prize student of botany I don't know the technical terms but something happens to the stamen of some coffee blossoms so that they make stunted beans and round in shape which are called Java while the perfect Mocha beans are shapes you taste when they are all ground up together.

In coffee picking time even the littlest tots help in the harvest. Everybody works, even father. The picking consists in stripping all the berries off right down the branch. As the leaves are in somewhat on the general strip, after the harvest, the poor old coffee tree looks a bit denuded.

The berries are stripped off and allowed to fall on the ground where they are raked up and carried away in baskets.

The next step is to spread them out on an open cement court to dry in the sun.

When the berries are all shriveled and dried to the consistency of husks they are put through successive machines that husk them and separate the Mocha beans from the Java. They are then in sacks ready to be shipped down to Santos and exported.

As you sip your Turkish, French or U. S. A. coffee you may be almost sure it has a Brazilian past. For it is only by the different degrees and process of roasting in the different countries to which it is sent that the good native Brazilian bean becomes disguised as a terrible Turk or in true Parisian manner, starts a haison with chicoree and becomes "cafe."

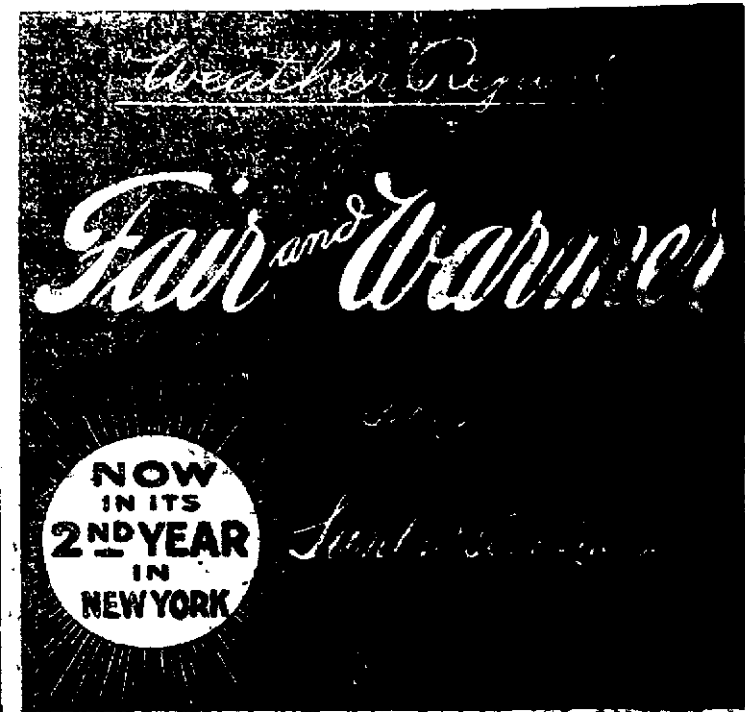

I have tried to make this coffee clear for you, to show you just where your coffee's bean. I hope it all has percolated.

ACTIVITIES OF WOMEN

The first women's university in India has recently been opened in the city of Poona.

The first national convention of opponents of woman suffrage in the history of America has been called to meet in Washington in December.

The Kansas W. C. T. U. has decided to erect a drinking fountain in Topeka as a memorial to Mrs. Carrie Nation, the militant crusader against saloons.

Mrs. Georgia A. Robinson, recently appointed to the office of policewoman in Los Angeles, is the first colored woman in the United States to hold such a position.

Symbolizing the duty and mission of its members, the Women's Medical club of Columbus Ohio, adopted as its official pennant a white stork on a yellow background.

Forty-two faithful women servants who have held positions with the same families from two to twenty years have been given premiums by the German Housewives' society of New York city.

The government of Wurtemberg has commissioned a woman as naval lieutenant and placed her second in command of a small gunboat detailed to guard the great Zeppelin works on Lake Constance.

Miss Hortense S. Stollnitz, an 18-year-old New York girl, is the new international amateur typewriting champion, having won the title in competition by writing 137 words a minute for 30 consecutive minutes.

Miss Margaret Chinn of Seattle is the first Chinese woman ever to matriculate at the University of Washington. Miss Chinn is a native of China, but has resided many years in this country. Despite her long residence here, she can speak and write the Chinese language with ease.

Miss Esther Cleveland daughter of the late Grover Cleveland, formerly President of the United States, has arrived in Paris to take up work among the blind soldiers at the "Phare de Paris," an American institution which has accomplished much good under the direction of Miss Winifred Holt.

Lady Mackworth, daughter of Lord Rhonda, is a shining example of the advancement of English women in business as one of the results of the war. She is an active director of nine large financial and industrial corporations, including a colliery company, an insurance agency, a coal distributing agency, which operates in France and other countries and a Spanish coal company.

Boston society folk, as well as those of Newport, New York and abroad, have learned with interest of the engagement of Miss Edith Deacon, the daughter of Mrs. and the late Edward Parker Deacon of Boston, to Henry G. Gray, son of the late Judge John Clinton Gray of the court of appeals of New York. Miss Deacon is noted as a society leader, beauty and tennis champion. She is one of the three famous Deacon sisters of Boston. Her sister, Dorothy, is the Princess Dadiwill of Rome. The third sister, Gladys, attracted much attention abroad several years ago by the reported infatuation of the German Crown Prince for her and his desire to renounce his right to the succession and marry the American girl.

"LIBERTY"

By the will of her father, Liberty Horton an American girl is left a big ranch in Mexico, and upon her eighteenth birthday goes to take possession of it against the wishes of her friends who know the conditions in Mexico. Escorted by a troop of Texas rangers, who's captain is madly in love with her she crosses the boundary to take possession of her estate. The employees give a grand fiesta in her honor inviting all the people for miles around. Thrilling deeds of horsemanship, shooting, etc., amuse the gathering with one exception. While this is going on Manuel, a Mexican plots to kidnap Liberty, force her to marry him, and secure the ranch for his own. How this is done and the way that she is rescued will be shown in episode 1 of this thrilling patriotic serial "Liberty" at the Opera House tomorrow, matinee and night. A big program in addition.

"THE LAW DECIDES"

Domestic difficulties form the complications of a most absorbing play under the title of "The Law Decides." The story by Miss Marguerite Bertsch tells of a thwarted love that rekindles with a fierce passion when the leading male character, portrayed by Harry T. Morey, discovers that the object of his affections, who has become the wife of another is thrown by chance into his company in an out of the way hunting lodge. Dorothy Kelly does one of her best scenes at this period of the play, when as the wife, she defends her honor first, and then with the appearance of her husband is denounced for alleged perjury. Donald Hall as the husband is superb and little Bobby Connelly as the unhappy offspring tossed rudely about by the storms of the divorce court is wonderful. The play is a great teacher, giving to the public a wonderful lesson of the folly of greed for wealth and love denied. It was directed by William P. S. Earle, assisted by the author.

DR. WAITE, YOUNG PRISONER, FINDS SOUL MATE

Ossining, N. Y., Oct. 31.—(By United Press)—Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, debonair young prisoner who, after several months of diligent effort, succeeded in killing his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Peck, of Grand Rapids, today found a soul mate. Or rather, she found him. In a letter to Waite in his cell in the Sing Sing death house, where he is kept pending the appeal of his case, the writer told the condemned man that his "cosmic throb" and hers, as revealed by her intuitive self, are the same. She longs to be with him, to comfort him, and to assure him they will be mates in the next world. Dr. Waite receives many letters from women he never knew. Some condole, others scorn, but most express admiration, sympathy and love. Waite spends his time reading the Bible and writing poetry. When Former Warden Osborne left Sing Sing Waite bade him a warm adieu. Osborne thinks Waite excessively abnormal; that he should not be electrocuted but rather locked up for life.

British Lose 11,800 Men During Month

Activities on Western Front Quiet Last Night.

London, Oct. 31.—(By United Press)—The British killed, wounded and missing during the past month is 11,800 according to the official casualty list announced this afternoon. Of the number 1487 were officers, nearly 3000 officers and 75,000 men were wounded and 400 officers and 8000 men are missing. General Haig reported today that last night's activities on the western front were very quiet and that only intermittent fire occurred on both sides. Roumanian forces in Dougrava are reinforcing their lines preparing an attack on the German forces in that region under General Mackensen. Late advices admitted that they were stubbornly resisting.

GERMANY WILL DISAVOW MARINE DISASTER IF IT IS CONTRARY TO PLEDGES

Washington, Oct. 31.—(By United Press)—If the Steamers Marina and Rowenmore were sunk by a German submarine commander or commanders in direct violation of Germany's pledges the German government will disavow it and offer reparation and punish the commander or commanders, German officials in Washington said today. The officials point out that in the case of the Marina which it is stated was attacked by gun fire without warning that this method of submarining it in itself a warning and that the crew had sufficient time to escape. If the crew was unable to leave the ship it was probably because they failed to stop when signaled. In Lansing's report he state that the facts in connection with the sinking of the Marina are not conclusive.

ter fitted both by nature and by training for this high office. In his own county where he has so long and so well served his people in judicial office his name is a guarantee for fair dealing and impartiality. When he was candidate for re-election no nomination was made against him but the different parties agreed upon him as the man best fitted in that great county for Common Pleas Judge. The business of the county was such as to give him when at the Bar and also when on the Bench a close familiarity with the class of cases which are common to this section of the state.

I have known Judge Walling for about twenty years. He has held court in this county to the great satisfaction of both the Bar and the people. I have also heard him try cases in his own county. In his strong practical sense in administering it he had few equals and no superiors on the Common Pleas Bench. To these qualities he added another that is not always found with these and that is a genial disposition which attracted to him and held to him both the respect and admiration of the Bar and people. This also greatly increased and widened his influence and his sphere of usefulness. We can make no mistake by supporting Judge Walling for the Supreme Bench.

it nor take it with them. There is no clew to the perpetrators of the outrage and there does not seem to be any reason for it. Mr. Kohler is one of the highly esteemed men of the community and it is not known that he has any enemies. It is stated that two strangers who were lurking in the village are now among the missing and that possibly they did the deed.

There is a supposition afloat that the blowing up of the garage was only a side issue to the plot that was really framed up. Some people are of the opinion that the explosion was planned with a view of getting people away from their homes so that some well schemed robbery could be carried out. But the blowing up of the garage did not attract the general attention of the community.

CURWENSVILLE NEWS

CURWEN
Mrs. W. Q. Heimbolt left last Saturday for Williamsport where she expects to remain for a week.

County Commissioners Dale and Spencer, were in town last evening and attended the Republican rally.

Fred Kirk and wife arrived from Philadelphia yesterday and will spend several days at the Kirk homestead.

Born, to Mr and Mrs. Harold Stewart, at their home on South Side of Anderson Creek yesterday morning, a son.

Chas. Robison, a former resident here, now in business in Clearfield, spent Sunday with relatives in this place.

Yesterday started the week for a general clean up. Considerable work was done by citizens and more will be done today.

A bow social, for the benefit of the H. S. football team will be held in the Moose Hall tonight. There should be a good attendance.

The wrecking of a freight car loaded with brick Saturday at the brick plant, cause the P. R. R. work train to spend some time at that point on Sunday.

Every member of the Civic club should make an extra effort to be present this evening and hear what B. J. Lantz has to say about a "Community Centre."

Levy Williams, son of Samuel Williams, South Side, employed at a building brick plant at Templeton, Armstrong county, came home yesterday for a short visit to his parents.

M. D. Kirk, an expert mining engineer located at Cumberland, Md., arrived in Curwensville yesterday for a day's visit with kin folks. He is a son of Mrs. A. M. Kirk and a brother of H. P. Kirk.

In the first 8 months of the present year, 13 people lost their lives and 104 were injured at grade crossings on the P. R. R. system, a large portion of these accidents occurred to automobilists.

Landlord Carpenter is contemplating making two dwelling houses of his barn. He has no use for the building as it stands, and figures that more profit could be derived from it by turning the building into houses for rent.

Dal Richards has assumed the drivership of the Adams Express wagon for Agent H. B. Thompson. He is a good careful man, and patrons need have no fear but what their packages will be delivered on time from now on.

The Republican rally which was announced to take place last evening in the public building was held Joseph Phillips, candidate for assembly, was the first speaker. He was followed by A. H. Woodward who made the leading talk of the evening. There was too much noise and confusion on the streets, and that drew the attention of many who had contemplated attending the meeting.

Last evening bedlam broke loose all over town. Nearly everybody was out having a good time, meaning the younger element. No great amount of damage was done to private property, as compared to that of day of yore. Just what enjoyment kids can find in soaping store windows is beyond comprehension, yet considerable it was done. As a lady remarked "Thank goodness, Cornwalls and Hallowe'en nights come only once a year."

A picture of Curwensville's base ball team of 1882-3, "The Maple Leaves" is being displayed in the store window of Gus Wolf. It calls to mind the struggle for supremacy between Curwensville and Clearfield and on some of the games considerable money changed hands on the result. The players represented in the picture are: Ross Harley, M. Harley, L. W. Spencer, C. E. Pattern, Wills, Chambers, H. Burkett, Tom Poorman, Gus Wolf and Hudson. Poorman was a National league man, and lived at Lock Haven. Hudson was from Altoona.

HISTORIC CHAPEL 150 YEARS OLD.

New York, Oct. 30.—Old St. Paul's Chapel, at Broadway and Fulton St. today began a week of celebration of the 150th anniversary of its founding. It is the oldest public building and the only colonial building in the metropolis. Other congregations are as old but St. Paul's is the only building that stands as it was before the Revolution.

While in New York as Commander-in-chief of the American forces, General Washington attended St. Paul's. After the disastrous battle of Long Island, he was driven out of New York by Lord Howe and the city fell into the possession of the British. During this time St. Paul's was the military chapel of the English officers.

In 1879 immediately after the inauguration of Washington as first president of the United States, he, with both houses of Congress, marched from the present site of the sub-treasury building in Wall Street to St. Paul's Chapel, where an appropriate service was held.

Since the Revolutionary days St. Paul's has continued to be prominent in the life of New York changing with demands of the time and growing in historic value. The old graveyard as well as the church itself, is rich in relics and monuments.

RUSSIAN IMPERIAL HEADQUARTERS IS VERY BUSY PLACE

Ordinarily About 20,000 People Form the Population, but It is Now Crowded

Czar is in Constant Attendance with Son, Heir to the Throne. Crown Prince Alexis Nikolaievich, Only Eleven Years Old.

By Wm. Philip Simms
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Imperial Headquarters, Russian Army, Oct. 4.—(By Mail)—From this place every day about half past twelve o'clock, over special wires, flash the orders of the Emperor and his Chief of Staff Alexieff to the generals commanding the 700 miles of front.

If you have eyes that can see through housetops and brick walls, you will see scores of uniformed officers pouring over maps and plans; aids hurrying from one department to another; orderlies standing at ramrod attention back to busy generals; a Crown Prince learning how to govern; a Czar conferring with his staff. You will see all these important acts which send a half million men to the attack, to the forcing of a stream, to the taking of an enemy redoubt. The clash of cavalry, the thunder of big guns, the offensives against Lemberg and Kovel and all the other places—all are controlled from here.

Yet, if you have the eyes of ordinary mortals, you see none of this and Grand General headquarters, or the Stavka as the Russians call it, is the least, the least place in all Russia.

Unless you have plenty of work to keep you occupied, this is no place for you. This is no health resort, no place for tired business men, no amusement center for neurotics and rouses. Everybody here has a job and he keeps at it and if you have none you are in for a rotten time.

Ordinarily about 20,000 people live here. Now, with the military, the population is about double this. Still the narrow, roughly cobbled streets are seldom crowded because most of the 40,000 people are busy inside. In the dingy shop-windows one sees American tooth washes, American sewing machines, American typewriters, American bicycles and advertisements for American harvesting machines.

A long, one-story house of hewn logs, unpainted and weathered to a somber gray, back a little way from the main street, is by tradition, the scene of a meeting between Katherine the Great, of Russia, and Emperor Frederick of Prussia, in 1726. Now it is divided into two parts and a family lives in each.

A red brick "opera house" in the middle of the town, the house of the local governor wherein Czar Nicholas II now finds quarters with his 12 year-old heir, Alexis Nikolaievich; a rather handsome Catholic church, several equally handsome Greek Catholic church, several equally handsome Greek Orthodox churches; the street market; the view from the terrace back of the Emperor's quarters, make up the principle sights of the place.

A long, very narrow street, between two rows of whitewashed stone buildings, whose roofs are almost low enough to be touched by the extended hand looks inviting. Here are strange shops kept by very hairy men. Their wares are principally articles for the peasants—charcoal

How to Select Your Corset

DECIDE first that your figure is individual—that you need a corset designed for you. Then look at the 9 Ideal Figure Types and choose yours.

Next, come to us and let us show you the many Gossards we have in stock in your size, designed for your ideal figure type.

Then your selection is reduced to the amount you want to pay, from $25.00 down to $2.50.

This is the
Thirty-first Announcement and Proclamation of Gossard Corset Styles for Fall and Winter, 1916-17

In addition to comfort, wearing service and great value, you obtain authentic style in Gossards. Gossards wear longer because of their materials. They are in style longer because of the advanced style information of their designers, which is reflected in the corsets.

Selecting your Gossard here insures intelligent service. Be fitted today. A model for every figure at a price any woman can well afford. An expert corsetiere will be pleased to fit you without obligation.
